eVerge Group Methodology

eVerge Group offers a rapid, comprehensive approach to implementing or upgrading your application. With over 15 years of fine tuning, the PrecisionFit® Process leverages industry-standard Unified Process, but tailors it by incorporating extensive implementation experience and finely honed intellectual capital. PrecisionFit®'s unique focus on Active User Involvement, Iterative Prototyping, Knowledge Transfer, and Change Management ensures that eVerge Group solutions deliver value time and again.

eVerge Group PrecisionFit® Process

Iterative Prototyping

Iterative prototyping is the process of developing working prototypes of the solution based on initial requirements. Early prototype iterations are developed and presented to users for feedback, ensuring that the solution is on target. These prototypes allow for early user involvement via formal review sessions. Feedback is gathered and reflected in subsequent prototypes and review sessions. This process continues until no further modifications are deemed necessary.

Why eVerge Group?

Through years of experience with Oracle implementations and upgrades, we have developed a flexible approach to deliver fast and efficient results with minimal impact to your current environment.

- Our combination of technical and functional expertise ensures that your organization takes full advantage of the software's functionality.
- Our proven best practices and experienced consultants, combined with our relentless commitment to excellence, results in unparalleled customer satisfaction.
- Our proven track-record, supported by over 500 successful software implementations/upgrades, means you're working with a partner with a solid history of delivering results.
- Our experienced consultants average more than 5 years experience and understand both the technology and the business processes, assuring that you'll get a business solution, not just a technology solution.
- Our smaller, more highly skilled teams work more efficiently, delivering more cost-effective results.
- Our PrecisionFit® Process results in a validated system that you'll be prepared to manage at implementation.
- Our flexible delivery approach enables us to utilize local resources, as well as on-shore and off-shore labs.
- Our commitment to customer satisfaction means we'll do what it takes to make sure we deliver the results you expect.

Our Clients Say it Best...

"I truly do not believe we would have been as successful with a different consulting partner. eVerge Group should be commended for everything they did to ensure that Experian was a satisfied customer."

Danny Boston, VP of IT, Experian

"The quality of the eVerge consultants was first class. They understood our complex requirements quickly and solved problems. There was never a sense that something couldn't be done."

Mark Stasinski, IT Director, McKesson

"With eVerge's fast-track approach and expertise with PeopleSoft, we were able to implement the software in a very short timeframe. The consultants learned our business quickly, helped us change it where necessary, and configured the software to meet our expectations."

Laura Johnson, Finance Director, City of Oklahoma City

"eVerge Group immersed themselves in our operations and took the time to really understand the implications of each implementation decision. They truly were a partner and we really felt they cared about the success of the project"

Ria Williams, Assistant Controller, Susan G. Komen for the Cure
